THE POLITICAL SITUATION AND THE COMING PRIMARIES

What's What and Who's Who—An Interesting Mix-up in Glendale and Tropic Precincts

On the 11th inst. occurs the primary elections, and it is presumed that every voter has given the matter some thought in an endeavor to make up his mind as to his duty on that day. The situation in Glendale and Tropic precincts is interesting at least. In both precincts, as throughout this district generally, the greatest interest is taken in the supervisory contest. Mr. C. E. Patterson is finishing his second term as supervisor and aspires to break the record and serve a third term. The Lincoln-Roosevelt Republican League is after Mr. Patterson's scalp, as are others, and the contest is close between them. The league has endorsed a strong candidate in the person of Mr. R. W. Pridham of South Pasadena. There will be about 100 delegates in the supervisor convention and at present it looks as if there would not be a dozen votes between Patterson and Pridham on the first ballot. Each candidate is practically sure of a certain number of votes and in the closely contested precincts no one is a good enough prophet to foretell the outcome. The course of Mr. C. F. Parker of Tropic precinct in refusing to withdraw after a vain effort to get the endorsement of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League, has mixed things up in the precincts of Glendale and Tropic so that a straight out and out issue is impossible. There are many among our best citizens who are of the opinion that Mr. Parker's course has been so transparently selfish that they consider it of paramount importance to rebuke his aspirations and prevent him from securing a delegate in the convention. By packing the local Lincoln-Roosevelt clubs for that express purpose he has secured their endorsement, contrary to all the principles which that organization is founded upon.

One of the purposes of the league as set forth in the card that every member signs is "the pledging of all delegates to conventions against the iniquitous practice of trading." And yet

Mr. Parker's only possible chance is to get a small "trading" delegation in the convention, a handful of delegates who might in the event of a close vote between the two leading aspirants hold the balance of power, and whose votes would therefore be "worth something." This situation is becoming so clearly understood that at present the indications are that he is finding it extremely difficult to get men on his ticket who are willing to be put in the questionable position which is occupied in a convention by a delegation of this kind. In the Tropic precinct both Patterson and Pridham supporters are so strongly opposed to Mr. Parker's tactics that for the purpose of eliminating him and securing harmony in the precinct, a combination ticket is in the field containing the names of two Patterson and two Pridham supporters and which will doubtless be elected at the primary next Tuesday. On this ticket appears the names of Messrs. Collins and Stine, who favor Patterson, and Messrs. Rice and Logan, supporters of Pridham.

A similar condition prevails in the Glendale precinct where at a regular caucus held Friday evening a ticket was unanimously selected consisting of Messrs. Parker and White supporters of Patterson, and Mr. J. C. Sherer, representing the interests of Mr. Pridham.

Mr. Parker does not in any sense represent the Lincoln-Roosevelt Republican League which has not only endorsed Mr. Pridham but which is responsible for his being a candidate at all, as he only consented to run upon the urgent solicitations of league members.

In both Tropic and Glendale, there is such a large proportion of comparatively new voters that it may naturally be expected that many feeling that they are not well enough acquainted with the issues or the candidates to decide wisely, will refrain from voting at the primary at all and yet a lively contest is anticipated.

THE OTHER SIDE

What Mr. Patterson Has to Say

Los Angeles, August 6, 1908.
Editor News, Glendale, Calif.

My Dear Sir: In justice to the many taxpayers of the Fifth Supervisorial District who have given me their loyal support in the past, and who have assured me of their continued confidence and their purpose to re-elect me, I feel that it is perhaps not too much to ask of you a little space in which to reply to unfounded and malicious statements that have been made concerning my official record. In the first place, I stand upon that record, and am willing and anxious that the truth shall be known. My service to the county has been conscientious, and I believe that the majority of the voters of the district have upheld and will uphold me in the stand I have taken upon questions that I have had to pass upon.

First, as to race tracks. I did vote, as a supervisor, for the incorporation of Arcadia. That incorporation occurred August 3, 1903. The Ascot Park race track license was not granted until December 1, 1904. As I recollect it, Ascot was in operation at least three seasons, and when the territory in which it is situated was annexed to the city of Los Angeles, about two years ago, the race track men turned to Arcadia. That village had been an incorporated city about three years at that time, and was entirely beyond the control of the board of supervisors. Furthermore, when the city was incorporated, the action imposed upon the board by the code was mandatory. On page 638 of the General Laws of California you will find the provision that the supervisors "shall" take the necessary steps for the incorporation of cities, if the requisite showing of 500 population and 50 signers to the petition for incorporation is made. The board may alter the boundaries, but it has not the power to prevent incorporation. The supervisors in that case simply obeyed the law. I have no apology to make for that.

The statement that 15,000 voters signed the petition for the suppression of Ascot is false. There were 6,000 signers, according to the records. Of those, very few, comparatively, were in my district. I favor submitting the question of race track gambling to the legislature. It was tolerated at San Francisco, and I took the position that the conditions should be the same throughout the state. We put it up to the legislature, and that body turned down the reform movement. The remedy plainly is with the legislature. Second, as to saloons on the aqueduct. I must be brief. Both Elizabeth Lake and Neenach, where retail liquor licenses were granted, were "wet" districts. The sentiment of the majority of the voters there was expressly in favor of licenses to saloons. That was sufficient warrant for my vote in the board. I do not pretend to dictate how the people should decide the question, but simply governed myself according to their expressed wishes. In Elizabeth Lake there were two applicants for licenses, and I voted for the one who was backed by twenty-five of the heaviest taxpayers in that part of my district. The other applicant was objectionable to the best citizens, and I voted against him.

It is true that I have voted for saloon licenses, but always my vote has been in conformity with the wishes of the majority of my constituents. Three applicants for licenses along the aqueduct were turned down, by my advice. No more will be granted without consent of the building of the aqueduct. Mr. W. B. Mathews, attorney for the aqueduct, who protested against the first licenses, has told me since that conditions are entirely satisfactory. The question of issuing drug and restaurant licenses has never been submitted to the voters of the district. I may say that no restaurant licenses have been issued except to bona-fide restaurants, which have the same right to them as restaurants in cities or anywhere else. Third, as to taxation of public service corporations. I have voted for reductions, for the simple reason that I believed the assessments made by the late Mr. Ward were too high; so high, in fact, as to be unfair. It is an open secret that Mr. Hopkins, the present assessor, places his valuations higher than he really thinks they ought to be, because he expects that the board of equalization will cut them. The "franchise to be," upon which hundreds of thousands of dollars have been assessed, I believe to be an improper subject for such taxation, and I am advised by the best lawyer of my acquaintance, who happens to be a judge, that such an assessment would not stand before the supreme court. The franchises can be bought, and are bought, frequently, for $100 each, and it certainly is not just to tax them at thousands of times that amount.

Fourth, as to the new cells for the county jail. Sheriff Hammel made the statement before the board of supervisors that he would prefer not to have any addition built rather than another system, which the lower bids contemplated, should be installed. The sheriff says it would be intolerably inconvenient to have two different systems of cells. Mr. Stewart, who bid lowest, could not cite to us a single jail of his type west of the Rocky Mountains, and we preferred not to experiment. But the recommendation of so thoroughly competent and respected an officer as Sheriff Hammel was sufficient ground for the board's decision.

If my opponents will stick to the truth, I shall not criticize them, nor fear the result. My trust is in the people, who have trusted me.

Sincerely yours,

C. E. PATTERSON.

FIENDISH ATTEMPT FRUSTRATED

A Young Woman Attacked on Third Street
Her Screams Fortunately Bring Assistance—Assailant Escapes

Sunday evening last Miss Sadie Gould, who resides on Third street east of Verdugo Road with her parents, came out from Los Angeles on the 11:15 car, as she has occasionally done before, after spending the evening with friends in the city. Getting off at Fourth street she started directly home along Fourth street to Glendale avenue, thence east on Third street. The night was very dark and when about north of the school house and a hundred yards or more east of Mr. Coker's residence, she was attacked by a man who came up behind, choked her and dragged her to the west that crosses the street at that point. Fortunately Miss Gould was able to use her voice and she screamed loudly in her terror at the sudden attack. The fellow then attempted to choke her so as to deprive her of the power to make further outcry and his victim bit him on the finger and screamed again. Fortunately Mr. Hamersley of the electric light and power company happened to be on the street in the neighborhood of Mr. Coker's house and hearing the screams ran in the direction of the trouble. Hearing the voice and the rapidly approaching steps of the rescuer, the brute dropped his victim and ran eastward on Third street. Mr. Hamersley, although unarmed, would not doubt have captured him had he not jumped into the vineyard on the south side of the road where he was immediately lost in the darkness and where the chances were all in his favor as against any pursuer. Miss Gould was almost prostrated as a result of her terrible experience. She can give no description of the man, as the night was very dark. He spoke sufficiently good English, however, in making hurried threats to kill her if she did not keep quiet. She is quite certain that he bears upon his finger the marks of her teeth, otherwise there seems no chance to identify him. Mr. Hamersley recalls a dark complexioned man about medium height and weight came up Third street some distance after Miss Gould, apparently also on the way from the car which had just passed.

It was no fault of the creature making this criminal attempt that our community was not the scene of a terrible tragedy last Sunday night and it is to be hoped that if any similar attempt is made in the future that a general alarm will be given so that the escape of the perpetrator may be made impossible.

LAUNDRY TO RE-OPEN.

We are glad to note that the steam laundry in North Glendale which has been idle for some months, is to start up Monday next. Messrs. Grady & Co. of Bisbee, Ariz., who have been in the laundry business at that place have secured the property, and will make improvements and have every reason to believe they will make it a success.

The Tropic Barber Shop has been secured by Leon, the well-known hair specialist of New York City. Two barbers will be in attendance at all times and the place promises to be conducted along quite metropolitan lines.

Mr. Leon will also keep a choice assortment of cigars and tobacco in connection with his establishment.

C. E. PATTERSON

"Stands on His Record"

AS SUPERVISOR

By CHARLES M. RANDALL
Editor Highland Park Herald

It is a sad commentary upon the alertness of the people in their own interests that a public servant may be guilty of the most shameful official actions and then safely depend upon their inertia and apathy for a peaceful forgetfulness after a few short months.

The gambling racetrack at Ascot Park, aqueduct booze joints, and Arcadia's rotten borough were, at the critical period, the special pets of Supervisor Patterson, acting as the tool of the Royal Arch and the Southern Pacific political machine, and his determined stand in support of those disgraceful institutions, according to the unanimous voice of the press at the time, consigned him to everlasting political oblivion. Fifteen thousand voters signed petitions asking that notorious Ascot Park, which has caused more suicides and financial wrecks than any other one agency, be closed, and every club and organization in the county, civic, religious or commercial, adopted resolutions demanding the same thing. In the face of this unanimous demand of the people, the "Solid Three" members of the board, led by Patterson, refused to act. Extracts taken from the columns of the Los Angeles Times and Express show the feeling of the people at the time over this outrage:

"Alone of all the board, Supervisor Alexander had tried hard to force the issue to a vote."

"When they voted him down and postponed the whole fight against the Ascot gambling ring, the old supervisor leaped from his chair, shaking his fist almost in a frenzy of excitement."

"I'll bring this up again," he fairly shrieked, turning to the crowd. 'I'll keep on bringing it up until they have to vote on it.'"

"The weak men who are afraid to take up the matter of the vile dives running under the guise of 'road houses,' are afraid to act on Ascot one way or another."

At a later period, by annexation to the city of the shoeing strip, which included within its boundary the whole of Ascot Park, the iniquitous gambling resort was closed because its suppression came under the jurisdiction of the city ordinances, and the "Solid Three," Patterson, Wilson and Graham, were shown to perpetuate the evil, did you say? Not in the least. The proposition to incorporate the ten borough of Arcadia by the supervisors came immediately on the heels of Ascot's closing. Nine thousand voters signed petitions asking Patterson and his board not to allow the gambling hell to reopen there, but in vain. Patterson falls back upon the plea that the board had no option but to grant the Arcadia petition to hold an incorporation election. Had he been so minded, a little investigation might have shown that Lucky Baldwin had no real "city" of the sixth class, and that his petition was largely fictitious. The board of supervisors were out to perpetuate the infamy of racetrack gambling, and no protest of an outraged people could avail.

In the face of determined protest of the city government of the aqueduct commission and of the civic, religious and commercial organizations, Patterson led the fight to grant licenses for the saloons along the route, and actually did authorize two or three to open. When cancellation of these licenses was demanded, Patterson went so far in his loyal service to his masters, the Royal Arch saloon organization, that he proposed that the other members of the board should walk over his dead body before he would allow those booze licenses to be revoked.

Time after time Supervisor Patterson has voted to grant saloon licenses to communities in the Fifth district in direct opposition to the expressed wishes of the majority of the voters of those communities. His official record has been continually pro-saloon, notwithstanding the fact that his constituents are by an overwhelming majority anti-saloon.

His vote with the "Solid Three" for the reduction of the assessments of the wealthy corporations has been a matter of frequent comment, and of constant criticism. Year after year Mr. Ben Ward, the county assessor, assessed the properties of these giant corporations at a fair valuation, only to see those valuations cut down to absurd proportions by the bare majority of a board of supervisors, led by Patterson, and committed to machine politics and subject to corporation influence, while the ordinary property owner pays his taxes and carries the burdens of government without protest.

Recently bids were opened for new jail cells. Patterson led the fight for acceptance of a bid $6,387 higher than the lowest one presented, and tried hard to get a secret session of the board in which to let the contract. The "Solid Three" actually made this contract in the way desired by Patterson, thus depriving the county of over $6,000.

R. W. PRIDHAM

His Record as Presented by the Lincoln-Roosevelt Republican League

To the Voters of the Fifth Supervisorial District:

Believing you to be interested in obtaining an honest and capable administration of county affairs, and that for your representative on the board of supervisors you desire a man who will work at all times for the interest of the people rather than for the corporations, and who can be depended upon not to favor one part of the district at the expense of any other, we submit to you a few facts upon which R. W. Pridham bases his candidacy for the Republican nomination for supervisor from this district, and ask you to contrast them fairly with the record of C. E. Patterson, who has held the office for the last two terms (eight years), and who now is a candidate for renomination.

Mr. Pridham is a resident of South Pasadena, and has been engaged in business in Los Angeles for the last twenty-six years. In that time he has built up the largest printing, book-binding and paper box making plant on the entire coast, a fact which bears ample evidence of his business ability.

Notwithstanding the close attention which has been necessary to build up a business of this kind, Mr. Pridham has never hesitated to give freely of his time and efforts whenever the interests of the city and country demanded them. For several years he has been identified with every important movement having for its object the betterment of civic conditions. His work along these lines has been as effective as it has been unselfish, and recognition of this fact led the Lincoln-Roosevelt League some time ago to urge upon him the necessity of allowing the use of his name as a candidate for supervisor.

When announcement finally was made that his consent had been obtained, the county central committee of the League gave his candidacy an endorsement that was equivalent to an ovation.

His efforts at all times have been directed toward the rigid enforcement of all laws tending to make a clean town. Under his direction South Pasadena has been entirely freed of "blind pigs," and he also was largely instrumental in securing the passage of the now famous pool room ordinance, which absolutely prohibits the operation of pool rooms in that city. This ordinance has been stubbornly contested by the manufacturers of billiard and pool tables, but its validity has been sustained by the superior court and the district court of appeals. It is the first time an attempt has been made to enforce such an ordinance in California, but Mr. Pridham always proceeds on the theory that, while everybody is entitled to a square deal, no half-way measures should be attempted with a thing that is believed to be bad or pernicious.

Mr. Pridham also was an active member of the city and county consolidation commission, and was instrumental in the movement carried out by that commission for the inclusion of the "shoeing" district in the city, which resulted in the wiping out of the Ascot race track.

Although in no sense a politician, Mr. Pridham has always taken a lively interest in political affairs. He has been a lifelong Republican, and although many times a delegate to conventions, he has never been a candidate for any office of emolument. He was one of the first members of the South Pasadena Lincoln-Roosevelt League. He is opposed to the influence of the Southern Pacific Railroad in politics, opposed to race track gambling, and, if elected supervisor, may be depended upon to give to the voters of every community the local option to regulate or abolish the saloon evil. He has been a member of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce since its organization, and chairman of some of its important committees. His record, therefore, gives ample guarantee of his policy if elected supervisor, not only in the matter of improvements and wise expenditure of the people's money, but also of his attitude toward the roadhouses which have infested several parts of the district for several years, and the race track evil. Furthermore, his election would break up the "Solid Three" on the board, a combination which has frequently resulted in the injury of the people's interest and the benefit of the corporations, including the Southern Pacific Railroad and the brewery interests.

Mr. Pridham stands squarely upon the principle that the people's interests should be the first consideration with every public officer.

TWENTY-ONE YEARS AGO.

The First Paper Published in Glendale.

Mr. B. F. Patterson has left on our desk the first copy struck off the press of the GLENDALE ENCINAL, bearing the date of July 12th, 1887. It is a four-page, seven-column publication and bears at the top the name of the publishers, W. L. and A. J. Wheeler. Most of the matter on the first page is selected, excepting one column of ads, and some alleged poetry, which is not so bad considering that it was written by the present editor of the NEWS, when he was younger and consequently knew less than he does now. Most of the ads are of Los Angeles concerns, among them H. Jevne and the Farmers and Merchants bank, which shows that the Wheeler brothers were good rustlers for patronage. Guinn, Riley and Phelon of 55 N. Spring street, Los Angeles, advertise that they handle Glendale and Verdugo property. Interesting is the advertisement of Aaron A. Wolf, grocer, whose location is given as "Glendale Avenue," "Mason Postoffice," showing that Tropic had not yet a postoffice, for the store was located on that part of Glendale avenue which is now within the limits of Tropic. It reminds us further that under the ruling of Pres. Cleveland's postmaster general, Glendale for postoffice purposes was known as "Mason," on the ground that there was another Glendale in the United States. Tropic station had been established, however, for there is an advertisement of "Richardson's Allotment, Tropic Station, S. P. R. R." Ben E. Ward advertised Glendale property liberally and a whole column was reserved for Crow Clippinger & Co., who afterwards did a big realty business here for a while. Byram & Dutton advertised their general merchandise business at Third street and Glendale avenue. C. A. Williams was the meat dealer of the valley as announced in a four-inch display. Announcement is made in a news item that the S. P. R. R. are running trains to Carpinteria, ten miles from Santa Barbara, and will complete the line of the latter place by August 1st. Among interesting local items is the statement that the grading on the railroad between Glendale and Los Angeles is proceeding rapidly (the present Salt Lake company's track) and that it is the desire of the company to complete it by the time the new hotel (now sanitarium) is completed. The hopeful editor expects soon to see Glendale avenue built up all the way from Glendale to Tropic and announces that several new blocks are soon to be erected. Mention is made of the sale of the fruit crop of H. J. Crow (now Goodell and Lomita Park) to the German Fruit Co. of Los Angeles for $17,000. The season must have been unusually late, for we learn that "the rain of last Friday was not sufficient to spoil the hay which has not yet been gathered in." Patterson & Duval have an interesting real estate advertisement offering five-acre lots at $2500; fifteen acres on Verdugo Road for $3000, with house and other improvements. Choice lots in Glendale at from $300 to $500. One of the local needs might well be repeated today when it is stated that our town needs a good restaurant. Altogether the GLENDALE ENCINAL of July 12th, 1887, is an interesting sheet.

THE SCHOOL MATTER INJUNCTION CASE.

The case of Monroe versus the School Trustees of this district enjoining them from accepting Mr. Anderson's bid for the construction of the new school building, on the ground that there was a bid some four hundred dollars lower, etc., is still hung up in the court, the judge not yet having rendered a decision.

The work on the new High School building is still delayed on account of the delay caused by the legal formalities necessary to perfect title to one or more of the lots composing the site. The plan adopted is in many respects similar to that of the South Pasadena High School with improvements added and the result will be a structure of which Glendale may be proud for many years to come.

Clean, honest and economical administration of county government
Elimination of Southern Pacific Railroad domination in public affairs
Opposed to race track gambling
Majority rule in regulation or abolition of saloon evil
Special privileges to none; equal rights to all

GLENDAL, CAL., AUGUST 8, 1908

In the death of Senator W. B. Allison, one of the prominent historic figures of the age passed away. A term of over thirty years in the United States senate in this age, counts as much as a century in any previous period of the world's history.

The New York Sun remarks that "Mr. Taft deserves the prayers as well as the votes of every decent citizen in the country;" which is quite a concession to be made by a paper which three or four months ago announced that arrangements had been made that insured Mr. Taft's defeat in convention!

The bureau of ethnology has issued a bulletin on "The Antiquity of Man in America." Now as a representative of down trodden man, we submit to this, as perforce we must, but we warn the ethnologists that there will be trouble of a serious nature if they make any unnecessary remarks about the antiquity of woman on this part of the continent.

The "rum" question seems to be particularly troublesome to the candidates of the Democratic party on the national ticket. A few weeks ago, Mrs. Kern expressed herself, on the subject and her husband hurriedly repudiated her sentiments with the pertinent remark that he and not his wife is the candidate for vice president. Now Mr. Bryan is perturbed because his friend the "Cow Boy Mayor" of Omaha, persists in defending high license as against prohibition in a public debate. The Democratic candidate for president will be kept busy from now until election day in an effort (not altogether hopeless) to keep on talking without saying anything.

FEET OF CLAY.

Future historians will no doubt accord to Theodore Roosevelt one of the highest niches in the temple of Fame. He is one of the greatest men, undoubtedly, who have filled the presidential chair. But we begin to be thankful that his term in the highest position in our country approaches its end. His criticism of Judge Grosscup and of the decision of the Court of Appeals in the Standard Oil case must lower him considerably in the estimation of even his admirers. The people of the United States may more safely pin their faith to the unanimous decision of a body of our judges of the higher courts than to the opinion of any individual, however high his station.

PERKINS HEARD FROM.

Senator Perkins seems to be doing a little politics just to keep his hand in during the summer vacation. He proposes that at the coming primaries every candidate for the legislature be required to state for whom he will cast his vote for U. S. senator to succeed Perkins at the coming session of the State legislature and two years hence to succeed Flint. This sounds well, but is sound only. At present it is Perkins against the field; no other candidate having yet been announced. The result of such an attempt can readily be foreseen. The supporters of Perkins would be for Perkins, but his opponents could not at this time center on any one.

Voters at the primary should bear in mind the fact that Mr. C. F. Parker is not the candidate of the Lincoln-Roosevelt Republican League for supervisor. That organization endorses the candidacy of Mr. R. W. Pridham.

The man who aspires to an important public office should have positive recommendations, not negative ones merely. The reason given by one or two of our citizens for supporting the claim of a certain man to a high position is that they "know nothing against him." This is a curious illustration of the good natured "I don't-care-activeness" of the easy going type of American citizen. He would put upon the shoulders of any man who has lived a fairly decent life, simply because he asks for it persistently and recommends himself!

CITY PARK OR PARKS.

We are glad to have succeeded, as is shown by communications which we publish this week, in arousing some interest in the matter of public parks (or a park) for our city. It is to be hoped that this interest will be kept alive and the question agitated until action is taken which will solve the problem satisfactorily. The idea of having several small parks is a good one and does not necessarily preclude the possibility of our having a larger one. And the possession of three or four small parks would not, we fancy, prove satisfactory for a very long time. For the present, however, we should get what we can. Already we have something tangible in view. One of our public spirited citizens stands ready to donate to the city a lot on the east side of Glendale avenue between Fourth and Fifth streets, provided that individual owners donate, or the city secure in some way, other lots to make the tract large enough for public purposes. With this nucleus to work to, it should be possible to start this movement at once. A resting place for visitors and a public beauty spot giving an object lesson on the possibilities of our Glendale soil and climate, will be a valuable asset for our city.

THE WEST GLENDALE SCHOOL.

Nothing ever progressed smoother locally than the building of the handsome new grammar school in West Glendale. The building is ready now for plastering and painting at once. Through the enthusiasm of the ladies interested who reside in that section a fine flag pole is already placed and plans are rapidly nearing completion for a big celebration, with plenty of music, bunting and a dinner accompaniment on the grounds, to which the children are eagerly looking forward. It seems that every one in West Glendale, from the tiniest school enthusiast up, are proud to the bursting point of that school. It will be remembered that at the election for the school bonds there was not a dissenting vote, the first site chosen was thoroughly satisfactory, the plans were exactly what everyone wanted and the contractor is rushing things to a most satisfactory finish. Every one in the valley will at the proper time, be invited to inspect the building and admire to their heart's content. West Glendale seems to know when it wants anything of general interest and to get it in the quickest time possible after it knows what it wants.

REAL ESTATE.

The Overton Realty Co. report the sale of the five-acre orange grove owned by A. D. Thatcher on East Fourth and Eagle Rock road, to E. C. Frank. Consideration, $5750.00.

Mr. Frank is an artist of considerable note and has come to Glendale to make it his home. He will within a short time commence the erection of a modern country home.

Also a lot on Mary street in the Glendalia Park tract for $700, on condition that the purchaser, J. R. Bright, is to erect a modern bungalow costing about $2500.00. Mr. Bright is having his plans gotten up and will start work soon.

Mr. L. C. Brand has recently put on the market in the Glendale Mountain View Tract, a couple of tiers of lots which will be sold at $300, provided the purchaser will build a residence on the property to cost not less than $1500. This liberal offer has been accepted by one or two parties, we understand, and should result in the rapid building up of the tract.

Rev. Howard H. Ross, of the University of Japan, will fill the pulpit at the Baptist Church next Sunday morning. In the evening an instructive and interesting illustrated stereopticon lecture on "Japan" will be given. Mr. Ross is a graduate of Pomona college and has taught for several years in that interesting country.

PARKS FOR GLENDALE.

To Editor of News:
I was glad to notice in last week's News an article relating to the park question and was especially pleased that it favored the having several small parks instead of one large central park. The city could not, of course, with its limited size and means have what could be called a large park, but it might be large for Glendale. There is an old saying that what is everybody's business is nobody's. I think this might in a way apply to the park for Glendale. I fear that those living at a distance from the one park would get to feel that the people nearest it should be the ones to look to its welfare and development. Now, in my humble opinion several small parks, some of them necessarily very small, as many as the city could manage to get scattered throughout the valley, would, I feel, give greater satisfaction to the city as a whole. It might be that each park or parkway could be assigned to the residents living nearest it to be by them looked after and improved in a measure in addition to what the city felt able to do in improvements for parks. A pleasant rivalry might spring up as to which locality showed the finest park. Then this would give to our flourishing city beautiful rest places, a delight to the tourist and homeseeker as well as to the homemaker.

ELLEN B. NEWCOMB.

GLENDALE CENTRAL PARK.

Editor of News: Well, if we are going to have a central park, why not call a meeting to see about issuing bonds? The council surely is ready to take up any proposition and let the people vote.

Where would we put our central park if we had one.
Why, everybody in the city knows that Fifth and A is the geographical center of Glendale, as the map shows. But where is the land that is available for all that Glendale demands in its central park? Where is there an open space, free from all obstructions, to admit of landscape gardening that will make a beauty spot for the traveling public to enjoy? Land that will give us a playground for our children; a ball ground, tennis court and croquet grounds, with suitable pavilions and rest stands, and a grandstand for open-air concerts?

Besides these things, our central park must have a good view of the mountains. It must be near car lines, the boulevard, the Salt Lake road, and Eagle Rock road, accessible to visitors.

Where is this available land for Glendale's central park?

A group of citizens, discussing the subject, made note of a piece of land that speaks for itself. It is already in shape, so that the expense would be as little as any city would ever have in making a magnificent park. It has size, which is a difficult thing to find without obstructions. Trees can be planted to great advantage in the scheme of landscape gardening. It is a natural place, no obstructions, no buildings to move or roads to build. It seems remarkable that it has stood in such shape all this time, while to the east, south and west, as far down as Tenth and as far over as Verdugo road, the land has already been cut up for building lots.

How does it happen that Glendale has never had any land reserved for a central park?

Now seems to be our opportunity. Why not look into the matter at once, before the land gets so valuable that the city cannot pay the price?

Why cannot our Glendale citizens get together and make for Glendale a central park without rival in our state?

OLD RESIDENT.

CHOIR ORGANIZED.

On Wednesday night the new choir of First Presbyterian Church was formally organized and election of officers ensued as follows: President, Mrs. J. M. Banker; vice president, Miss A. Judson Harris; secretary, James Newton; treasurer, Sam Fliske; librarian, Miss Luetta Engle, and assistant librarian, Miss Ethel Nelson. Rev. S. Lawrence Ward as manager will teach them how to make for clear water, avoid the rocks and treacherous "bars" and find a proper channel for their talent.

Often times the orchestra, under direction of Prof. Earl Bishop Valentine, will meet and practice with the choir in order to complete a happy effect for the splendid music which is being furnished at the Sunday services. Members are much pleased, and if any were inclined in the beginning toward lukewarmness, they are rapidly becoming enthusiastic, and enthusiasm of the right kind is proving vastly encouraging to the leaders and to the pastor, Mr. Ward.

A LITTLE DRAM-AH!

Scene—A Suburban Car. Commuters commuting.

ACT I.

First Com.—"I saw a ring around out of joint."

Second Com.—"Pray rest thy thinker—but why think thus? Propound?"

First Com.—"Is aw a ring around the moon last night; good friends, it did a portent seem to me, and as I gazed upon the fearsome thing it grey upon me till I saw the court house, and the city hall, and the state capitol, and—your ears, good friends—the very dome of that majestic pile where statemen gather near the sad Potomac's waters and frame the laws that make us slaves."

Second Com. (awestruck).—"You saw this thing?"

First Com.—"Aye, with mine own eyes I saw it, all framed in rings, and these rings wrung with other rings until the very air was filled with rings that left no room to breathe in."

Third Com.—"That is sad."

Fourth Com.—"Too bad."

Second Com.—"Let us sing!"

Chorus:

"Oh, a ring, a ring, is a dreadful thing To see when you're wide awake, But to see 'em at night By the moon's pale light Will give one a bad headache!"

"So alas for our brother Who's far from his mother! He really should never take another. Oh, a ring, a ring, is a dreadful thing; To see 'em by night And see 'em by day Leaves the overworked brain in a terrible way!"

Second Com.—"I, too, have seen things."

Third Com.—"What hast thou seen?"

Second Com.—"Jobs. Methought I had one and I had it not; I reached for it and it was not there; I dreamed I had it, and I woke to find—"

Third Com.—"You were grinding away at the same old grind. Sing, brothers, sing."

"He looked for a job in the city hall. He looked for it high and low; All through summer till late in the fall He saw them come and go."

"He saw them come and go, good friends. He saw them come and go, But he got no job in the city hall. And none in the court house, oh!"

First Com.—"You see, good friends, how hopeless is our case: Although they are pernicious; My jobless friend to hold a job Is properly ambitious. So let us form a combine now, Which ringless you may enter, With jobs the jobless to endow, While systems round us center."

Second Com.—"But hast thou pondered well the thing? The scheme is vast, prodigious, great, immense—it needs a statesman at the helm, a nucleus round which we gather and grow strong, a leader tried and true to boost us up the shining pathway till we reach the goal!"

First Com.—"All this I have foreseen. I will your leader be! I will be it!"

Chorus:

"He will our leader be; Oh, what a leader he— Tried and fit! We will his word obey, Follow him along the way, Make him it!"

(Exit.)

ACT II.

SCENE I.—A Public Hall. (A dim, mysterious light, and murky atmosphere. Commuters and others in evidence.)

First Com.—"Dear friends—kind friends—you have made me it. But now we need another—a statesman, one who has been there, a politician of the highest class, with principles up to date and various. But behold! I have made him with my little typewriter. Here he is!"

(Enter the Statesman; slow music. A hush falls on the assembly with a dull thud.)

Chorus of Commuters:

"Twirl your fingers, crook your thumbs, Something dreadful this way comes. Bar the windows, shut the gates, man— Bend the knee! Behold the Statesman!"

Statesman—"Good citizens, be not o'erawed. I am but as yourselves, a man. 'Tis true I am most fit to be some more, and so I hope to be."

Chorus:

"And so he hopes to be If the way he can but see, And the voters with their votes are propitious. Let us boost him right along— Never mind if right or wrong— Give him any old thing that he wishes!"

First Com.—"Behold the statesman I have made; with grace and force and fitness framed I him, all with my little typewriter."

Chorus:

"Now we have him made to order. Just the statesman that will suit us. And with votes we must uphold him. Or it will but little boot us."

Statesman—"I will give you all a job."

Chorus:

"He will give us for our trouble County jobs to pay us double; When he grasps the helm of state We will ride the decks elate."

"Sing a song of jubilee, Jobless ones who all agree! Sing, oh, sing the statesman bold Who has his own glory told."

"Who the wretch that dares to doubt? Find him quick and fire him out! Here's a statesman made to order. Whittled down, a perfect fit. Frazzled somewhat round the border. Vouched for by Himself and It!"

(Exit—Blue Fire.)

BULLETIN OF PROGRESS.

Evidence of the development of the State is given in the reports for the fiscal year of the county assessors to the State controller. Impressive gains are recorded in most counties over the figures of a year ago and the sum total will show a gain of many millions in the taxable property in the State.

Bond elections have been held in a number of cities and towns and in every case the voters have declared for civic improvements.

Unabated activity marks railroad extension throughout California. Of especial moment is the application for franchises, and the assurance of prompt prosecution of the work, for the electricization of the Alameda suburban service in connection with the ferry to San Francisco, a work that will involve the expenditure of over two million dollars. Almost at San Francisco's gates is the new trans-continental railroad, which has now reached San Leandro, Alameda county. That little known county of Modoc, one of immense productive potentiality, will be brought within better reach of markets for its products through the connection of its county seat, Alturas, with the main line; on this extension, work has been progressing steadily.

During the past month early sessions of a number of influential national and international conventions have been invited and have been secured for San Francisco and Los Angeles. These will bring thousands of visitors to the State, which will derive much good as a result of their sojourn.

Uncle Sam has been doing his share for the upbuilding of California as indicated in reports received by the California Promotion Committee. Material improvements are under way at the various forts and reservations around San Francisco Bay. On Angel Island the new Immigration Station is approaching completion. Equipped in most modern manner, advantage has been taken of past experience at similar stations at other ports to avoid mistakes.

As the season advances the earlier predictions of bumper crops in all lines hold good. The exceptions are the prune crop, which will be little more than a third of last year's crop (which was not heavy) and the raisin crop, which was, to a slight extent in some districts, damaged by warm weather.

Pursuant to Statute and to the Resolution of Award of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, California, adopted the 5th day of August, 1908, directing this notice, notice is hereby given that the said Board of Trustees, in open session, on the 29th day of July, 1908, opened, examined and publicly declared all sealed proposals offered for the following work, to-wit:

First: That, that portion of the roadway of Brand Boulevard from the Southern line of Fifth street to the Southern city boundary line of the City of Glendale, including all intersections of streets (excepting such portions of said street and intersections as are required by law to be kept in order or repair by any person or company having railroad tracks thereon) be graded, tamped and oiled in accordance with the plans and profiles on file in the office of the City Engineer, and Specifications for the grading and oiling and tamping of streets on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, said Specifications being numbered 9, except that instead of following that portion of said Specifications contained on page 2 of said Specifications under the heading of constructing gutter, sprinkling and oiling, which reads as follows: "The roadway shall be coated evenly with the oil at the rate of three gallons per square yard of surface covered. This shall be thoroughly cultivated in until the oil is well mixed with the soil to a depth of five (5) inches. The roadway shall then be tamped with a tamping roller until the bottom two and one-half (2½) inches are solid. The roadway shall then be re-crowned with a road grader, again thoroughly sprinkled with water until the top two and one-half (2½) inches are evenly dampened. The second coat of oil, amounting to one gallon per square yard of surface covered, shall then be applied and cultivated in as aforesaid, to a depth of two and one-half (2½) inches. Then the roadway shall again be tamped with a tamping roller until the entire surface of the roadway is uniformly hard and smooth and without undulations or irregularities in the surface. After said tamping there shall be applied a third coat of oil amounting to one-half (½) gallon per square yard of surface covered."

The following provisions are to be followed in lieu of said specifications No. 9:

The roadway shall be coated evenly with the oil at the rate of three (3) gallons per square yard of surface covered, which shall be applied in the following manner:

First, an application of one gallon of oil per square yard of surface covered, this shall be thoroughly cultivated in until the oil is well mixed with the soil to a depth of five inches and the roadway shall at all times, during said application herein described, be kept thoroughly moistened with water. After the first application of oil has been thoroughly worked in, a second application of one gallon of oil per square yard of surface covered shall be applied and worked in in the same manner as said first application, followed by a similar third application of oil of the same quantity which shall be worked into the roadway in the same manner as said first and second application. Then the roadway shall be tamped with a tamping roller until the entire surface of the roadway is uniformly hard and smooth and without undulations or irregularities in the surface. After said tamping there shall be applied a fourth coat of oil amounting to one-half (½) gallon per square yard of surface covered.

Except that on page 2, subdivision 4, under the heading "Oil," instead of the following provision "Natural Oil: The oil used shall be untreated, crude oil and shall not have been treated to remove water, sediment, or volatile materials." The following provision regarding the oil to be used shall be adopted: The oil used shall be crude petroleum.
